BOX AND BAGGAGE.

Stensland's Flight Weighted Down.

One Huge Trunk Contained What "Loot" He Secured from the Bank.

Sheets and Bedding and Silverware Traced to Mrs. Key's Home.

Housekeeper Reveals Relations of the "Pink" and "Green" Rooms.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Proof that extensive preparations for flight were made by Paul O. Stensland, the bank robber, and that Mrs. Leonie Langdon Key entered into these preparations was secured today, through the examination of Mrs. Ellen McCracken, housekeeper for Stensland. It was learned that Stensland took with him a number of trunks and boxes. Some of these have been traced to Baraboo, Wis., to the home of Mrs. Key, but a big trunk, which is supposed to contain most of what loot of the bank he carried away, the detectives at work on the case have been unable to find. The trunk is said to be three feet high, and bound with iron. Telegrams have been sent out all over the world to freight dispatchers to look for it.

WENT TO BARABOO.
It was learned that Stensland took with him, in trunks and boxes, sheets and other bedding, towels, window curtains, carpets, rugs and a silver dining set. Some of this is said to have been traced to Baraboo. The box traced to Wisconsin weighed 275 pounds when it was placed on an express wagon at the Stensland home, the day of flight.

"PINK" AND "GREEN."
The relations of Stensland and Mrs. Key were also revealed by Mrs. McCracken. She said that the woman lived at the Stensland home for nearly a year, that she occupied the "Pink Room," and that Stensland occupied the "Green Room," almost adjoining. She said he introduced her as "Miss Langdon."

CLASH OF AUTHORITY.
A war of receivers was inaugurated today, when Circuit Court Judge Brentano threatened with contempt proceedings attorneys who secured the appointment of the Chicago Title and Trust Company by Superior Court Judge Gibbons to take over the $2,000,000 assets of the defunct bank. John C. Peters, the receiver appointed by Judge Brentano, surrounded himself with armed guards to resist the order of the Superior Court.

Peters, it is said, will enjoy one of the "fattest" recoveries in the matter of fees ever known in Chicago. On the other hand, it was pointed out that the Title and Trust Company would reap an enormous sum from abstracts of title to about two thousand pieces of property, including all the lots in the Stensland subdivision.

KOWALSKI'S DESPAIR.
Because of the threats and scorn of his friends, given as the cause of the suicide of Frank Kowalski, killer of Stensland's bank, lies a shattered romance, in which the dead man's brother claims, in a large measure, responsibility for the latter's taking his life. Killed by his sweetheart, who less than a year ago married one of his friends, Kowalski is said to have brooded over the affair. The climax came last week, when, hooted at and scorned by those whom he esteemed, he decided to end it all.

HE REPORTED DANIEL WEBSTER.
Francis M. Smith, one of Pioneer Newspaper Men in Washington, Lies Dead.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Francis M. Smith, one of the first official reporters of Congress, died today at Washington, D.C., where he was born March 11, 1829. For many years he has been a prominent banker here. Daniel Webster was one of the first men Mr. Smith reported in Congress and later Mr. Smith reported for the Associated Press the court-martial of the Lincoln conspirators and the subsequent trial of John H. Serratt. Another famous trial he covered was that of Gen. Daniel Sickles for the killing of Miss-Atty. Key.

NINETY-EIGHT DIED IN FIRE.
SEYERAN, Aug. 14.—Since the fire which destroyed the greater part of this city, July 18, ninety-eight persons have been missing and it is believed they perished in the conflagration and that their bodies were consumed. According to official figures, seven persons suspected of incendiarism were killed during the progress of the fire.

MOVE TO RAISE GLASS PRICE.
CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—At a special meeting of the Western Window Glass Association today a resolution was adopted declaring for a delay in the resumption of the autumn work of all glass factories in the United States. According to Joe Schroeder of Detroit, who presided at the meeting, there has been an overproduction.

OFFICER TURNS CHAUFFEUR.

Lieut. Johannes Schlotz's Devotion to American Girl Brings Him from Norway to Success.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By resigning his position as a lieutenant in the navy of Norway and accepting a position as chauffeur in the garage of the Blue Ribbon Horse & Carriage Company, in order that he might be near the girl of his choice, Johannes Schlotz, now a resident of this city, by his persistence, pluck and ability, has won rapid promotion for himself and gained the consent of E. T. Bedford, a wealthy director in the Standard Oil Company, to a marriage with his daughter, Miss May Ester Bedford. The engagement was announced today at the Bedford estate, at Green Farms, and follows an announcement that Schlotz has been chosen secretary of the carriage company. The wedding will take place October 13 at Green Farms.

FIXING OF JURY NOT ACHIEVED.

MILLIONAIRE CARROLL'S BROTHER CITED IN COURT.

Admits He Had List of Tiesmen, but Denies Attempts to Secure Intercession—Sensational Land-Fencing Case in Montana—Witnesses Testify Against Accused.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sensational, indeed, was the evidence adduced today against William Carroll, a brother of J. T. Carroll, a millionaire Statesman, who is on trial in the United States Court on the charge of having unlawfully maintained an enclosure of the public domain. Yesterday, Dist. Atty. Carl Rasch sprung a bombshell by charging in open court that attempts had been made to tamper with the jury, and today Judge Charles E. Wolverton ordered that William Carroll be cited for contempt. He entered a plea of not guilty, and his lawyers entered a demurrer to the affidavits of the District Attorney and witnesses.

CARROLL HAD LIST.
G. B. Hopkins was called to the stand, and testified that, Saturday, Carroll approached him with a list of the jurors, and asked him if he knew any of them and if he could do anything with them in favor of his brother. Hopkins then told the District Attorney of the incident. Palmer Paulson swore that Carroll had asked him to change his testimony, given at the first trial, which had resulted in a disagreement. He said Carroll wanted him to swear that the fences enclosing the public domain were down, whereas he had sworn that they were in good condition. Kinman, another witness, testified that Carroll also asked him to change his evidence. Al Palmer swore to having seen Carroll and Hopkins together.

PICKED UP LIST.
Carroll took the stand and testified that while he had met Hopkins, the latter had asked him as to the progress of the trial, and wanted to see a list of the jurors, which he has unwillingly picked up in a lawyer's office. He denied pointblank the essential features of the alleged attempt to induce him to intercede with jurors.

The hearing was then postponed until tomorrow. Hopkins is cashier here for one of the big lumber companies, closely affiliated with the Amalgamated Copper Company, while J. T. Carroll is also closely connected with that concern.

PROTECTS HONOR OF THE NATION.

FEDERAL JUDGE ORDERS RELEASE OF PRISONER.

Brown, Recently Brought Back from Canada and Placed in Sing Sing, Incarcerated on Charge Other Than Which He Was Returned. Will Be Immediately Rearrested.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To protect the honor and dignity of the United States, as well as the rights of a citizen, Judge Hough, in the United States Circuit Court, today ordered the release of Charles C. Brown from Sing Sing prison and signed a paper making his order effective.

Brown will be set free tomorrow morning, but will be arrested at once under an indictment distinct from that under which he was convicted and sentenced.

The court declared: "This decision rests, not only principally upon the civil rights of a fugitive criminal who has been returned in accordance with an increasingly civilized international law, but upon the grounds of national honor, imposing upon this government the obligation to deal with the human being entrusted to it by a friendly foreign power only with respect of the matter by reason of which he was so entrusted." In his opinion, discharging Brown from custody, Judge Hough declared that there is no authority vested in the United States to seize or hold persons extradited in pursuance of treaty privilege except upon the charge on which the extradition was granted. Brown was recently brought back from Canada, where he had fled after giving bail, and was taken direct to prison. His counsel claimed that this was made through the beautiful Tausen in violation of the extradition treaty between the United States and Canada.

BRITAIN'S MONARCH

On Way to Meet the Kaiser.

William, With Large Suite, Awaits His Uncle at Friedrichshof.

Strenuous Denials Made of Stories That Meeting Has Political Significance.

Removal of Family Friction Much Desired by Both. Editor Banqueted.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, Aug. 14.—King Edward left London today, for the continent, traveling to Port Victoria by special train and crossing the North Sea to Flushing on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, conveyed by two British cruisers. The German and Austrian ambassadors were among those who assembled at the railroad station to see the King leave.

The greatest interest is manifested in the meeting between King Edward and Emperor William, which is to take place at Friedrichshof August 15.

CRONBERG, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A great deal of nonsense has been published with reference to King Edward's visit here, and its political importance. It has been stated, among other things, that the presence in these parts of Sir Frank Lascelles was politically and especially significant. No one is more surprised to hear such an opinion expressed than the British Ambassador to the German court.

A story published in a halfpenny London paper, to the effect that Sir Frank was busily engaged in making arrangements and preparations for the King's arrival has caused much amusement. The British Ambassador has not had a word to say, nor exercised any action which could give foundation for such an absurd statement. PRIVATE AND UNOFFICIAL. The visit of King Edward to Cronberg is purely private and unofficial. Were it otherwise, the Emperor would be accompanied by Prince Buelow or the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the King by either Sir Edward Grey or Sir Charles Hardinge, but their Majesties are not so escorted, and this fact must emphatically contradict the assertions that great political importance attaches to the meeting, a view which, it appears, is studiously encouraged in certain German quarters, for purposes which it is not necessary to mention here.

SMOOTHING FAMILY FRICITION. It is a truth, however, that the visit has its importance as a possible opportunity to establish a good understanding between the Kaiser and King, and of smoothing over points of family friction between the royal uncle and the imperial nephew. The latter is credited with such a desire.

King Edward, on his side, it is declared, is most willing to throw a diplomatic sop to German susceptibilities, which were so ruffled, about a year ago, by the refusal of the imperial invitation to a meeting.

NO PUBLIC CEREMONY. The lines of the present visit are of the simplest and most informal character. The Kaiser arrived late this afternoon at Friedrichshof, and will meet the King, who comes by special train, tomorrow morning at 9:15 o'clock. With the Emperor was a large suite, including Count Eulenbourg and the Prussian Ambassador, Freiherr Von Jentich, and Secretary of State Von Tschirchky.

There will be no public ceremony, tomorrow, of any kind. Members of the family, including the Duke and Duchess of Sparta and Prince Friedrich Karl of Hesse, will welcome the King at the station. There also will be there Sir Frank Lascelles, Herr Van Marx Landruth of Hamburg, and Herr Von Reichbach, master of the horse.

CLOSET AND CAMP. King Edward and the Kaiser will remain closeted together until 1 o'clock, the luncheon hour, after which the automobile trip will be made to Saalburg, where, as most people know, the Kaiser has a pet hobby, a Roman camp, which he delights to show to all friends. The course will be reached soon after 3 o'clock. How the afternoon will be disposed of is not settled, but as automobile drive will probably be made through the beautiful Tausen woods and hills. Hamburgers hope that the King will make a long halt here. Tomorrow evening there will be a dinner party at Friedrichshof and at a quarter of 10 next morning, the King will continue his journey to Marienbad, after having stopped here just twenty-four hours.

EDITOR MEETS KAISER. JOURNALISM IS DISCOURSED. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In appreciation of the extreme hospitality extended to Prince Henry of Prussia, the Emperor's brother, in New York when Hermann Ridder, editor of the Staats Zeitung, entertained him at a magnificent banquet, Ridder was invited to breakfast at Wilhelmshof today. He was presented to Emperor William by the American Ambassador, Mr. Tower, the Emperor conversed on various subjects, the ethics of journalism forming one of the topics.

JOURNALISTS AND GENERALS. The Kaiser's distinction of Ridder excited general comment on the favoritism accorded to American journalists, in view of His Majesty's recent caustic references to German journalists. It was at Ridder's dinner to the Prince that the latter quoted his imperial brother's reminder, to treat American journalists with respect, as they ranked with commanding generals.

WASHINGTON APER. WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is announced here this evening that the Washington Herald, a new morning newspaper, will begin publication about October 1, under the management of Scott C. Bone, formerly the managing editor of the American Post. The announcement says it is to be a penny newspaper and that it is backed by Washington business men.

WINTER WITH THE PRESIDENT. OYSTER BAY, Aug. 14.—Owen Winter, the author, is a house guest of the President tonight. Winter arrived on the evening train with Representative Longworth, who spent the day in New York.

ILLINOIS DIVORCES IN TWO DECADES.

Twenty-two Clerks Put at Work Upon the Census—Sucker State Leads Rest of Country in Separating Incompatibles.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Work on the divorce census of Chicago and Cook county for the last twenty years was begun today by twenty-two clerks, under the direction of Oscar M. Pond of the United States Census Bureau. When the task is finished, Director Pond predicts that 40,000 divorces in Cook county will have been recorded and classified.

FIFTY-EIGHT CAUSES. The fact that there are about fifty-eight causes and combination of causes for divorce to be tabulated gives an idea of the voluminous character of the task.

Six of the clerks began work today, in the Fort Dearborn Building, the remaining sixteen occupying rooms on the third floor of the Monadnock Building, where most of the records are filed. In the number of clerks, Chicago leads, while New York is close behind with twenty clerks and Philadelphia with fifteen. The last preceding divorce census was taken in 1896.

MOB DARES RESCUE.

Italians Attack an Ambulance.

Smash Door in an Effort to Save Immigrants from Being Deported.

Driver of Vehicle Thrown to Ground and Shoulder Blade Broken.

Man and Girl Fly, but the Police Get Fourteen to Ellis Island.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Was that strange-looking vehicle which was set upon as it came rolling out from the South Ferry, today, one of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit cars, gone astray in Manhattan, and had its occupants refused to pay an additional fare for crossing the ferry?

And were these expatriated Brooklyn Rapid Transit inspectors who smashed in its rear door and dragged the occupants forth?

It was a dazed throng which looked upon this scene at the Whitehall street entrance to the South Ferry soon after the noon hour and which asked these questions.

DRIVER'S SHOULDER BROKEN. And while they were asking and wondering, the driver, who had been leaping the assailants with his whip, was dragged from his seat and hurled to the pavement, landing with a broken shoulder blade.

POLICEMAN FINISHED IT. It all happened in a few moments. Policeman Mangoni, who had fought his way to the center of the swirling riot, seized one of the men who was standing near the fallen driver, and the others quickly scattered.

IMMIGRANTS ABOARD. The vehicle which had been attacked was an ambulance that was bringing immigrants from Long Island College Hospital to Ellis Island, where they were today to be placed on the vessel which had brought them to this country and sent back to ports where they had embarked.

There were sixteen which were to be returned today, all of them Italians, and most all suffering from trachoma.

FRIENDS KEPT BUSY. Ever since their arrival here and their removal to the Long Island College Hospital, the doors of that institution have been daily besieged by friends and relatives. These were made aware of the intention to remove the newcomers to Ellis Island, today, for the purpose of deporting them. But no one seems to have paid much attention to the crowd which collected about the hospital when the ambulance backed up there, nor to the crowd which followed it down to the ferry and into the boat.

SMASHED IN DOOR. It was when the attempt at rescue was planned while the vessel was making her way from Brooklyn to New York. The crowd, numbering about one hundred, suddenly swarmed about the ambulance as it was emerging from the ferry gates on this side, the door was smashed in, and the two occupants nearest the exit were dragged forth.

Then the police arrived. Those who were rescued from the ambulance were Gracia Feranti, an 18-year-old girl, and Salvatore LaPorte, 30 years old. The other fourteen were taken safely to Ellis Island.

MRS. CRAIGIE'S DEATH NATURAL. Noted Author Was Not Addicted to Drugs—Post-mortem Will Be Held. Parents Heartbroken.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
LONDON, Aug. 14.—The body of Mrs. Craigie (John Oliver Hobbes), who died here yesterday, was removed from her residence today to Paddington Mortuary for a post-mortem examination under the Coroner's supervision. The funeral services will take place at the Jesuit Church, Farm street, August 17.

John Morgan Richards, father of Mrs. Craigie, said today: "I have no reason to suppose that my daughter's death was other than natural. She did not take drugs." When it was suggested to Mr. Richards that his daughter might have been troubled with insomnia he said she slept remarkably well when at Ventnor, Isle of Wight, which place she left Sunday last for London.

Mrs. Craigie had just spent a fortnight with her parents at Ventnor, and was in excellent health and spirits and busily planning future work. Reaching London Sunday evening, she complained of feeling tired and went early to bed, leaving orders not to be disturbed until she rang in the morning. At 8 o'clock the next morning, hearing nothing from their mistress, the servants became anxious and went to her room, where they found her dead. Mrs. Craigie's parents, who have been summoned to London, are heartbroken. Her father, in an interview, said: "My daughter was perfectly well when she left Ventnor and was looking forward to a visit to Scotland, Wednesday, with her son. We had not the slightest anxiety on her account, and she had not made a single complaint."

UTO TEST RUN FOR A VICEROY

EX-WAR CORRESPONDENTS GOING LONG WAY.

From Herald Square, New York, Across the Continent Yuan Shai Kai's Interests Will Go With Richard Henry Little and Christian D. Hagerty.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In order that Yuan Shai Kai, the Chinese Viceroy, may have an automobile best adapted to service in China, two of his friends have planned a test run across the continent, which will start from Herald Square at 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

The run will be made by Richard Henry Little and Christian D. Hagerty, two war correspondents of Chicago who became warm friends of the Viceroy during the war between Russia and Japan. They will use a two-cylinder 25-horse power Buick auto.

WHITMAN'S WHIRLWIND RIDE. L. L. Whitman, in a six-cylinder Franklin air-cooled car, continues his whirlwind record across the American continent. If he maintains his present rate of speed, he will make the run from San Francisco to New York in 13½ days, cutting the previous records by 19½ days.

Saturday night, Whitman was at Omaha, Neb., 9 days ahead of the record. Monday night, he was in Chicago, 11 days in advance of the time figured to that point. At noon today, he was in Toledo, O., and his speed to that point, if continued, will bring him into Syracuse, N. Y.,

His Great Work Has Not Reached Completion.

Sullivan Gains a Skirmish Primary Elections.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The West is quietly resolved to renominate President Roosevelt, according to Representative Campbell of Kansas, who has been speaking in various Western States, including Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Campbell is author of the Standard Oil investigation resolution and is a Senatorial candidate.

"I talked with hundreds of people, business men, farmers, editors and others, in all walks of life," said he, "and I find the Republicans not greatly concerned over the 1936 nomination."

"They are saying that President Roosevelt will be renominated, and will be forced to accept, that he is showing in his desire not to run again, but that his work is not yet done, and he ought to continue four years more in the White House."

"ROOSEVELT" THE ELOGIUM.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senatorial conventions of both Republican and Democratic parties were held in Illinois today, and in a majority of cases endorsed their favorites for the Presidential nomination.

The Republican Senatorial convention for the Thirty-fifth District, held at Dixon, by resolution, unanimously endorsed Theodore Roosevelt for President in 1936.

The Thirty-sixth District convention at Quincy adopted a resolution endorsing Speaker Cannon for President, with the expressed understanding that Roosevelt would be first choice in the district if he would accept the nomination.

Speaker Cannon was endorsed by his home district convention at Danville, and several other districts followed the lead of Quincy in giving the Speaker a provisional endorsement.

Unpledged Let from San Joaquin. Hayes Brothers and Lorigan in Santa Clara.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Primary elections were held today in the larger communities of the State for delegates to the various conventions, State and county gubernatorial, Congressional and judicial. In this city there was practically no opposition to the party tickets.

In the Thirty-second, Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth districts some independent candidates appeared among the Republicans.

In the local Democratic field the regular organization expects to have a good working majority as the result of the primary.

RUEF'S VICTORY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Ruef at present is boss of the Democratic and Republican parties in San Francisco.

At the primary elections today, he named delegates on both tickets, and by a clever appeal of "standing pat" in complete control of the situation.

Ruef laid his plans long ago, and located registration places in out-of-the-way places, so the vote at the primary was very light. He was careful to secure the registration of such a number of his henchmen that could be counted on to vote, and then, when the time came, he selected his ticket in both parties.

His scheme was aided by the fact that the Democratic organization is broken to fragments, and no strong leader was at hand to cement the pieces.

LOS ANGELES ONE DISTRICT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The primary election passed off quietly today. As there were but few contests, little interest was manifested, and a very light vote was cast. Incomplete returns at midnight indicate that the Republican organization, or so-called "Ruef ticket," was elected in seventeen out of eighteen assembly districts in this city and county.

The fight centered in the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh districts. In the Thirty-fifth district, the opposition, known as the "Duffy ticket," was headed by John S. Murphy, a former candidate for Mayor. The Ruef forces are said to have elected their ticket.

THE HARDEST CONTEST.

The hardest contest was waged in the Thirty-sixth district, where former Supervisor Fred Egan, who led a sharp fight against the "organization," and is the only district in which Ruef appears to have been defeated.

Another fight which attracted some attention was made in the Thirty-seventh district, where a ticket known as the "Pink ticket" was put up in opposition to the Ruef delegates. It is understood that Arthur Pink's home district. It is believed that the Pink ticket lost the district to the regular "organization" ticket.

DEMOCRATIC TICKETS.

The Democrats had two tickets up in most of the districts. The regular Democratic organization ticket was defeated in all but two districts. The anti-McNab forces elected their delegates to State, county and Congressional and city conventions in the entire Western districts of the city.

ALAMEDA FOR PARDEE.

also were held today, there being only one Republican ticket in the field. These delegates are pledged to vote for the renomination of Hon. Joseph R. Knowland.

NAPA FOR PARDEE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NAPA, Aug. 14.—Republican primaries to select delegates to the county convention to be held in Napa were held in various precincts of the county today. Great interest was taken in the election, and a large vote was polled. There were lively contests in Napa in Salvador precinct and at the Veterans' Home.

Returns received this evening indicate that Gov. Pardee has secured ten delegates to the State convention, and has carried this county over Congressional.

DUNCAN McKINLEY will be the choice of Napa county Republicans for Congressional for the Second District.

STOCKTON UNPLEDGED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

STOCKTON, Aug. 14.—There was a warm contest today, for delegates at the Republican primaries in the Twenty-third Assembly District (city of Stockton) but the nominees of the present party organization were elected by considerable majorities.

The delegates to State convention are: E. F. Polk, George Tatterson, C. P. Gardner, J. J. Gardner, A. E. Munster, A. H. Ashley, H. W. Keith, C. M. Keniston, J. M. Perry.

The delegates elected to the Congressional convention are: P. E. Ellis, J. T. Lewis, George E. Wilhoit, C. P. Hendon, George W. Tatterson, W. B. Snow, George W. Elder, A. J. Turner, R. F. Woodhouse, A. B. Barker and George Leister.

The delegates go unpended.

HAYES AND LORIGAN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN JOSE, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The result of the primaries here today showed completely the supremacy of the Hayes party, against whom the McKenize, O'Neill and Herrington forces, claiming to shield Judge Lorigan from defeat at the Republican State Convention, put up a vigorous and bitter fight.

In the town of Santa Clara, the forces headed by D. O. Druffel, member of the County Central Committee were successful. A brother of Bert Herrington is justice of the peace there. The Hayes brothers will be in absolute control of the county convention.

The three Assembly districts were decidedly in favor of Hayes, though in some precincts, such as Gilroy, Vineyard, Santa Clara and one or two smaller precincts in the extreme southern end of the county, Lorigan favored Hayes were successful.

J. O. Hayes regards his victory as a sweeping one. It was rumored to him, that after the result became known, that he would be elected to the State Convention, and that Lorigan and his immediate friends, the entire support of Congressman E. A. Hayes and J. O. Hayes and their papers would be used in the judge's favor.

SACRAMENTO HARMONY.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—The primary election passed off quietly in this city. There was no opposition to either of the caucus tickets put up by the Republicans or to the County Central Committee ticket named by the Democrats. Only 623 votes were cast in this city.

Delegates to the convention are unpledged, but the Republican delegation to the State convention will be for Pardee and the Democrats for Marshall Diggs.

GILLET TICKET BEATEN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

VALLEJO, Aug. 14.—After a warm primary contest and a large vote polled, approximately 1800 out of about 2500 votes registered, the delegation to the State convention consisting of G. A. Bergwall, John E. Ross, James Bergwall, John E. Chappell, John Spellman and George L. Voorhes, won out by 556 majority.

The delegation is unpledged, the opposition State ticket which went down to defeat being for Gillett.

The opposition Congress delegation and county delegation were also defeated.

ROOT AT BUENOS AYRES.

GREAT CROWD GREETED HIM.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 14.—Despite a heavy downpour of rain, immense crowds assembled at the docks to witness the arrival of Secretary Root and his party, who were received by the Minister of Marine and Foreign Affairs, accompanied by Mr. Beaupre, the American Minister, and his secretaries.

The visitors were heartily cheered along the line of the route to the palatial residence placed at their disposal by Dr. Lobos. The street was crowded with spectators. Almost every house was decorated with American flags.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Root was conducted to the Government House, escorted by the Eighth Regiment of cavalry, for an official reception by President Alvear, who formally returned the Secretary's visit at 5 o'clock.

Tonight, at 8:30 o'clock, Mr. Root and his party arrived at the Government House for an official banquet.

The guests were seated at long tables, and the banquet was a most brilliant affair. The scene was most brilliant, the staircase and banquet hall presenting a picture of great splendor.

The streets and public squares of the city were a mass of electric illuminations.

DRAGO DOCTRINE BOBBING.

NOT YET SAFELY LANDED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 14.—The Subcommittee of the International American conference on the Drago doctrine today agreed on a resolution even more general than the one on the programme. It recommended that the Argentine representative alone should agree on, and will be signed today. The opinion is expressed that the resolution will be accepted unanimously and adopted by the conference.

Both Congress delegates were for Knowland.

FRESNO FOR WILLIAMS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

FRESNO, Aug. 14.—The primaries here today were the most exciting in the history of the city. The delegates to the State convention are for W. R. Williams for State Treasurer, Mr. Frank Foster, M. B. Harris, M. L. Rowell and J. B. Bernhardt, S. B. Tombs and Stanton L. Carter.

Pardee ticket, was badly defeated. Assemblyman A. M. Drew made a fight for Pardee, but was unsuccessful.

SULLIVAN CAPTURES PEORIA.

BRYANITES ARE ROOMLESS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roger C. Sullivan, the Democratic National Committeeman whom Bryan has ordered out of the party, has won the first skirmish by grabbing all available rooms at Peoria, in preparation for the State convention.

The Bryan-Hearst faction will have to sleep on cots and hold conferences in halls and saloons. There is every indication of a hot fight.

Sullivan will take about 600 handy men to Peoria on a special train, and there will be strenuous doings if the other faction resists.

Hearst arrived today, and is engineering the opposition forces, but his efforts in leading in the Middle West. The Democrats from down the State say the belief is general that Bryan made a fatal mistake in letting himself be used by the enemies of Sullivan to precipitate an unnecessary fight.

LONGWORTH FOR CONGRESS.

EXPECTS A RENOMINATION.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Representative Longworth of Ohio was a visitor to the headquarters of the National Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. He deposited $1 as his contribution to the campaign fund.

Mr. Longworth said he is a candidate for reelection, and expected he would win.

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Aug. 14.—Robert Storton of Monticello was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Fifth Iowa District.

CANNON DEFIES LABOR.

BELIEVES HIS SEAT SAFE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker Cannon intends to give positive evidence of his fearlessness of organized labor this fall by making no contest whatever for reelection in his district in Illinois. So confident of reelection is he that he will devote all his time to other Republicans whose chances of returning to Congress are not so certain.

DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS.

EXCITEMENT IN DALLAS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

DALLAS, Aug. 14.—With 700 delegates, the number being set by law, and more than 4000 spectators, what promises to be the most exciting State convention ever held by the Democracy of Texas since 1892, when the party split and nominated James S. Hogg and George Clark for Governor, opened today.

The first session was devoted to the usual preliminaries of effecting temporary action on the platform by law, and the adoption of resolutions.

Judge Joseph E. Cockrell of Dallas being named as temporary chairman. The first ballot for Governor will hardly be taken before tomorrow afternoon.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS.

"REORGANIZED" ASSEMBLY.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

HOUSTON (Tex.) Aug. 14.—The faction of the Republican party of Texas known as the "Reorganized," today held its State convention here. E. H. Green of Terrell, president of the Texas Midland Railroad, and son of Mrs. Hettie Green of New York, was nominated for Governor, and J. C. Gibbons, formerly Mayor of Paris, Tex., for Lieutenant-Governor.

The resolution adopted strongly commended the national administration and denounced Cecil A. Lyon, who is the regular State chairman and Republican National Committeeman for Texas.

ODELL AGAINST HIGGINS.

HE COMES OUT "SQUARELY."

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Tribune tomorrow will say that ex-Gov. Odell at the Fifth-avenue Hotel, last night, after conferring with various members of the State Committee, friends of Gov. Higgins among the rest, came out squarely against the renomination of Gov. Higgins. He said that he regarded Gov. Higgins as a weak candidate; that he would, if nominated, be the candidate of a faction; that his experiences four years ago in running a second time convinced him that the old-fashioned Republican precedent of refusing a Governor a second term in this State was a wise one.

Odell took pains to say that he had no personal feeling against the Governor, but was giving expression to his conviction that the renomination of a Governor to do in order to carry out the provisions of the new measure. The questions are not secret, but they are lengthy.

Fusion in Nebraska.

LINCOLN (Nebr.) Aug. 14.—Prospects seem good for fusion between Democrats and Populists, both of whom hold their State conventions here tomorrow.

Decision Pleases Mutual.
British Insurance Policy Marked Contrast to That Pursued by France, Says McIntosh.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Senator McIntosh, vice-president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, said yesterday that the decision of the House of Representatives to invest in England to meet the liabilities of American mutual insurance companies in that country was one of the most comprehensive and able documents ever issued by any government, and was in such marked contrast to the policy adopted by the French government that the Mutual's officers were more than pleased.

McIntosh made public yesterday copies of a resolution adopted by the Mutual board of trustees March 28, in which the trustees pledged the company "to conform its plans and contracts to such provisions of law as may be enacted by the Legislature of the State of New York."

Mr. Undermyer, who has been in Europe furthering the plans of the organization of the International Policyholders' Committee, returned to his office yesterday.

LUTES WERE LOOTED.
False Note in Story of Man Whose Name Was Dennis, and New He Is in Jail.

M. Dennis was arrested last yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having robbed some hand and music store in this city. When the officer stopped Dennis and patted him down he found that there was at least $500 worth of musical instruments. As Dennis was unable to tell where he secured his valuable cargo he was sent to Central Station.

With a pack nearly twice as big as himself, Dennis hurried along North Main street and when he came abreast of the Temple Block an officer, who had been following, halted him. Dennis first told the policeman that his pack was filled with old clothing, but the officer's observation told him otherwise.

Two silver cornets, several string instruments of a fine quality, and some smaller but valuable instruments were found in Dennis's pack. The police believe that Dennis was either returning from a fence or had just stolen the musical instruments.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Vault to Grave Last Journey.
The body of Timothy J. Sullivan will be removed from the vault and interred in a permanent grave in Hollywood Cemetery at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Price Mistake.
A regrettable error inadvertently occurred in Ward & Co.'s announcement of the Rich Navajo Gold Mine appearing in last Sunday's issue of The Times in reference to the price of the shares. The statement, "A Real Mine, not a Prospect, at 2 cents a share, should have read 20 cents a share. The error, however, is plainly evident, as shares of a valuable mine could not be sold for 2 cents.

"Heavy" Now Wanted.
While L. Diehlberg of No. 543 South Hill street was selling fruit to an elderly man, yesterday, a daring newsboy dashed into the store and stole a six-foot bag of fruit. The officer on the beat was near by at the time and was notified of the theft, but failed to locate the thief. From Diehlberg it was learned that he has frequently been troubled with little thieves of late.

Income Flats Sold.
Lee A. McConnell & Co., with A. Caldwell, have sold for J. Irish, the Station Terrace flats at Nos. 914 and 916 West First street for $12,500. The property consists of a lot 42x115 feet, with a six-foot house, and income flats of 10 per month. Lee A. McConnell & Co. report also the sale of a lot 15x145 feet, vacant, on Broadway and Seventh street, for Margaret Frick to A. C. Blinn for $1700.

Wanderers Found.
Oscar Schomover, 10 years old, living at No. 1284 East Fifty-fifth street, and Harold John, 11 years old, living at No. 1244 East Fifty-fifth street, were found last evening in the vicinity of El Molino and Pico streets by an officer. The two boys left home during the noon hour and strayed to the city. Confused by its dizzy whirling lights and crowded streets on Pico Heights. The police sent them home.

Wife Abuser Arrested.
J. W. Blackman, a negro, was arrested last night at his home, No. 138 South Alameda street, and will be held on suspicion pending the action of police officials. When the officers arrived at the Blackman home, they found that the negro had his wife cornered and was threatening to kill her. It was learned that it is a common occurrence for Blackman to attempt to injure, and to threaten to kill his wife, and several times the police have intervened to protect her.

TRAIL OF AUTO

PATH OF CRIME.

DETECTIVES SO THINK OF THE CANYON MYSTERY.

Investigation is Following Movements of Horseless Carriage Which Was Stuck in the Sand Late at Night Near Where the Girl's Body Was Found in Niche of Hill.

That the victim of the Temescal Canyon tragedy was not murdered in the gorge above Port Los Angeles, where her body was discovered over a week ago, today, is the accepted belief of the Los Angeles detectives who have been working on the case. Their theory is that she was murdered and conveyed by automobile to the mouth of the canyon, and from there carried into the brush, alongside the trail, where Poney Horton and his woman companion found her sitting. The scene of the murder, they think, may have been in Los Angeles.

Yesterday was spent by the detectives in search for some clue by which to identify the automobile which was taken that took it past the Santa Monica Canyon roadhouse and on to the main beach highway at midnight either six or seven weeks ago. Last Saturday night, that such a trip was made at such time is known positively. It is further known that the gasoline machine became stuck in the sand about a mile above Port Los Angeles. The automobile party struck the sand and while endeavoring to turn the machine around to return after nightfall, the point at which this incident occurred was right at the mouth of Temescal Canyon.

The predicament of the three young men in charge of the two-seated vehicle was observed by a son of the house of Marquis, whose home is on the mesa a little north and west of the canyon. Marquis had been to Santa Monica and Venice to witness the Saturday night festivities, and was returning home after a late hour. His path took him directly past the mouth of the canyon, and it was here that he saw the men engaged in the Herculean task of pushing their car through the yielding sands.

Beyond observing that the automobile was a two-seated affair, Marquis (three men were pushing it, Marquis has no recollection. He was unable to tell the detective if the carriage had a top or whether the running gear was of light color.

The significant fact is that the vehicle was being pushed around at the mouth of this canyon in the middle of the night. There are no roadhouses beyond and the beach road has no attractions for automobiles after nightfall. Even during daylight only the most venturesome of drivers head in that direction, as the road is narrow, and sandy in places. There are also steep grades to overcome, so that altogether it is an unlikely route for auto pleasure parties to search out in the darkness. The theory of the detectives who visited the canyon yesterday is that this midnight automobile party was not on pleasure, but that the vehicle's occupant of the seat was left among the poison oak of the canyon as a food for birds and mountain rats.

LUMBER DEALERS EXPLAIN.
Show Why Cost of Lumber Has Been Increased to Ward Off Future Attacks.
The lumber dealers of Los Angeles have taken umbrage at the attacks made upon them for the increase in the cost of lumber during the last few months, and yesterday an exposition was made of the cost of lumber to the dealer.

of gross profit of $1.25. Out of this amount must come the expense of book-keeping, insurance and other office costs.
The added cost to the original price of $21 is distributed about as follows: Wharfage, 6c; tallying, 10c; freight to Los Angeles from the harbor, $2; loading on wagons to the lumber yard, 45c; piling in yard, 60c; labor for reloading, 2c.

The dealers charge in addition to this the expense of delivery, and give the purchaser the opportunity of having other than the dealer deliver it.
The advance in the price has been confined entirely to the big dealers in the North, who have the advantage with orders from all parts of the country, and especially from San Francisco. This price, the local dealers say, has been governed by the universal law of supply and demand. They point out that the demand for lumber has wonderfully increased, and immediately following this has come the practical disappearance of the great forests of Michigan and Minnesota.

The business from these places has been transferred to Washington and Oregon, and a demand formally encountered by the northern lumber men has been doubled.

INCREASE IN CAPITAL.

Stockholders of Pacific Mutual Life May Raise Amount to One Million Dollars.

One million dollars is to be the capital stock of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California. If the stockholders act in accordance with a resolution adopted by the board of directors, calling a special meeting for the purpose of considering such a proposal.

The capital now is $700,000, divided into 7000 shares of the par value of $100 each. It is proposed to add 3000 shares of the same par value, to be sold at $200 per share. Of the amount expected to be realized thereby $200,000 is to be added to the capital stock and $500,000 to the surplus.

The call for the special meeting, which is to be held at the company's offices in Los Angeles on October 17 at 3 o'clock p.m., is signed by George I. Cochran, president; J. N. Russell, secretary, and the following directors: Joseph H. Clark, J. C. Drake, H. G. Brainerd, W. W. Beckett, John H. Miller, Lee A. Phillips, John P. Roche, W. H. Davis and C. E. Moore.

Premiums collected by the accident department of the company for the first seven months of 1931 as compared with the same period last year show an increase of $51,000.

WHITE CAPPER BUYS VOTES OF REPORTERS.

Gives Them False Names and Occupations and Arrange for a Felony at the Polls—Claims He Paid Many Fake Voters.

VOTES were bought and sold on the public streets during the primaries yesterday as openly and shamelessly as though they were butter and eggs.

One of Sheriff White's alleged deputies was buying votes for his chief at $2 per vote.

The writer has good evidence of this fact. He was bought himself.

The deputy approached a Times reporter and offered in explicit terms to buy his vote; also arranged for his false registration.

This offer was accepted. The reporter

The man who called himself Vignea and who claimed to be a special deputy of Sheriff White.

was hurried to the polls; was given a false name; was instructed exactly how he should proceed to register the false vote; one of White's primary tickets was placed in his hands and he was shoved off.

ABSOLUTE EVIDENCE.

The Times man carried out the bluff to the very edge of the law in order to obtain absolute evidence of this raw and crooked business.

The deputy entrusted with this general work of manufacturing felonies stated that he had already paid out

He was asked by the still apparently undecided voter whether he had delivered the votes at this name polling place.

"Yes, sir," he said. "At this same place—every one of them."

"Why say," he went on impatiently. "There is nothing to it. You don't even have to remember who to vote for. All you do is to take the slip I give you and I will fix you up with the name. I will have to pick out the name of some voter who is about your age. Let's see, I must get an occupation for you, too."

The deputy turned in his buggy seat and regarded the reporter with most unflattering attention.

"I think you might do for a waiter or a clerk," he said.

"When do I get my pay?"

PAY FOR "THE GOODS."

"Just as soon as you cast the vote. I will wait for you on the corner. I've got the money here in my pocket. You full of political acquaintances, rushed by, waving their hands in greeting.

"Some fellows wave at me," said the reporter meekly. "I suppose they wanted my vote."

"Oh, that's all right," said the deputy Sheriff, relieved.

He fingered in his pocket and pulled out the tiny slip photographically reproduced here. It contained the name and address of the voter whom the Times man was to represent:

"A. E. Keller, 551 Mallard street; age 27."

Vignea was asked who the real Keller was, but no satisfaction was to be gotten out of him.

"What if the real Keller should appear?"

REHEARSED A FELONY.

"He won't appear," snapped Mr. White's deputy. "Anyhow if he did, where could they find you? You wouldn't be stayin' around here, would you?"

"If I get into trouble, will White protect me?"

"But you won't get into trouble; say, do you want this $2?" asked the deputy meaningly.

Before the reporter was allowed to go, the deputy made him rehearse the name and address of Keller.

"Now, if they should ask you where Mallard street is," he said, "remember it is right over there." He pointed to the west.

"I think," he added, "that you better write out that name and address before you start so you won't forget it. Write it on some slip of paper. Be sure and stick that slip I gave you in your pocket; don't let it be seen."

The reporter disappeared into the voting tent, but to the astonishment of the officials there he did not vote.

They gazed after his retreat in open-mouthed bewilderment.

It is a felony to offer to buy a vote. Money need not actually be paid.

SECOND WITNESS.

Another Times man was a witness of the transaction outlined above. He was also "bought" and was supplied with a bogus registration name and a White ticket by the fellow calling himself Vignea.

SHE WILL TOUR SOUTH AMERICA.

LOS ANGELES SCHOOL TEACHER IS HIGHLY HONORED.

Receives Commission to Visit South American Republic—Comes from a Distinguished Family in Ecuador, but She's American—Will Prolaim Advantages of Southern California.

Commissioned by the State Board of Education of California, and invited by high dignitaries of a South American republic, a young teacher of the Los Angeles High School will start from San Francisco on August 25 to make a tour of the lower half of our continent—a commission which she feels will afford her opportunity to promote a good feeling between North and South Americans.

MISS ENRIQUETA DOUGHERTY, who will visit South American schools in the interest of the State Board of Education.

Miss Enriqueta Dougherty, lately appointed critic reader of Spanish literature for the State Board of Education of California, is the daughter of an American civil engineer, and says enthusiastically that she's an American.

But her mother—Señora Dolphina Dougherty—Castro, is a member of one of the proudest and most distinguished families of Ecuador. Dr. Luis Felipe Castro, a Congressman from Quito, and, according to the custom of the country, holding also a judicial office, is one brother of Señora Dougherty's, who will welcome this pretty young girl when she returns to the country of her birth, with an honor from the land of her adoption. He enters enthusiastically into her plans to learn the opportunities in South America for young men from California, and to advertise the educational advantages of Southern California among the ambitious youths of Spanish descent.

Another brother of Señora Dougherty—Castro is Dr. Julio Castro, former Supreme Judge of Ecuador and member of the Royal Academy of Spain. In this capacity, Dr. Julio Castro has an office from the kingdom of Spain, which corresponds to little Miss Dougherty's appointment from California.

"My uncle desires very much," says Miss Dougherty with her sweet Ecuadorian accent, "that my visit should lead to the establishment of a business

WOULD DESTROY CITY'S INDUSTRIAL PEACE.

Building Trades Unions to Demand Increased Wages, Closed Shop and Saturday Half-Holiday—Threaten to Call a General Strike.

THE industrial peace of Los Angeles is again threatened. As a result of the efforts of certain walking delegates to whom alone strikes are profitable, members of the building trades unions decided last night to present to their various employers demands which are equivalent to their virtually turning over their business to the union laborers. If the employers reject these demands a strike will be declared.

A Times reporter participated in the tumultuous meeting of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at No. 518 San Pedro street last night, heard all the speeches, saw men who demanded conservative action, forcibly ejected from the hall and carefully noted all that took place. The report of the meeting, which follows, is not based upon hearsay, but is a plain statement of what was done. Here are some of the resolutions adopted and similar resolutions were adopted by other unions meeting at the same time in the same building:

Effective September 1. No member of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 158, shall work on a job with a non-union carpenter.

Effective September 4. Members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 158, shall quit work at noon on Saturday and shall work for no less than 50 cents an hour, or $4 a day.

That committees appointed be empowered to take action to procure a charter from the National Structural Building Trades Alliance.

War was declared at union-labor headquarters on San Pedro street last night, a war not only against the building contractors, but also against the very cause of the marvelous prosperity of Los Angeles—the fact that Los Angeles is not a union-ridden city. The issue has been hatching here ever since the San Francisco earthquake and fire, which drove a mob of rabid union men to this city. It was the boast of the speakers at last night's meeting that now is the proper time to tie up Los Angeles, because building is at its height both here and in San Francisco.

"We must use the San Francisco disaster to our advantage here," asserted one. "That disaster has crippled the whole State, and the scarcity of labor there means that we can demand what we want here. We may have to walk the streets for a time, but when the business men realize that their tourist crop, upon which they live, will not come to this city if it is bound hand and foot by a union strike, among all the building trades, we can and will make Los Angeles a union town like San Francisco—yes, all of Southern California."

A frenzied applause greeted this declaration which shook the building and almost made the Times reporter shudder. Then he applauded, too; he had to, and the men beside him slapped him on the shoulders and, in the language, shouted, "We will show them our strength. Los Angeles shall be unionized."

HOW HE GOT IN.

The largest hall in union-labor headquarters, at No. 518 San Pedro street, was crowded to the doors, when the reporter, unchallenged, entered and took a seat.

Shortly, the doors were ordered locked by Chairman Connors and the password was taken. Three men covered the room and it looked stormy to the non-member for a minute, but he dodged successfully.

"All safe," shouted Connors. "The meeting will come to order."

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting delegates in number about eighty-five were brought in and admitted to the union. Before allowing the candidates to take the oath, Connors made them a wild-eyed agitator, vulgare, any of the proceedings of the union and to fight for unionism.

PLEDGED TO FIGHT.

"The time has come to throttle Los Angeles and make it a union town," said Connors to the candidates. "Matters are to come up tonight which will present an issue and make it necessary that you stand ready to fight for its victory. We have our enemies here and the leader of them is the Los Angeles Times. We demand that you shall pledge yourself not to read this paper in any form, and to oppose it at all times. If your landlady takes it, move out, find another lodging place. If your employer advertises in it, refuse to work for him. If you find it in a barber shop, do not get your work done there. In all cases insist upon union-label bread, union-label clothing and when you buy your shoes, see that they bear the union label, thus assisting our brethren not only here but throughout the United States in their fight for unionism."

Connors then stated the purpose of the special meeting by reading the three resolutions given above. A fourth was also given—that the council no longer subscribe to the Union Labor News, but this last was not disposed of at last night's meeting owing to the lateness of the hour.

WALKING DELEGATES EXPLAIN.

In considering the first point, that of the closed shop, Business Agents S. S. Shelly and McElwain were called to the stand to explain the labor conditions among the carpenters and joiners of this city today.

"We have about 2000 union carpenters working in the city today and there are not over 500 non-union carpenters on the job," said McElwain. "This 500 are not skilled workmen and really cut no ice if an attempt is made to close the shops. If you men are willing to say to the contractors on September 1, 'We will not work on a job with a non-union man,' and walk out at the call of your delegates, we can win this fight and make Los Angeles a union town. This is the only way you can ever win this fight, for there is Leonard, for instance. He has told me over and over again that he wants all of his men to belong to the union, but yet he refuses to confer with our committee and then he goes to his foremen and tells them that he wants the place kept open. He is two-faced and you have got to drive him into line. You have got to close his contracts against scabs and you have got to demand that he shall em-

REJECTED BY FORCE.

This statement was greeted with hisses, cat-calls and sneers, which finally ended in a tussle between the man and those immediately surrounding him; and he was forcibly ejected from the room. Then a wild-eyed agitator, the loudest-mouthed of them all, stood upon his chair and carried the meeting by storm. A motion for the previous question was carried, and the secret ballot later resulted in a vote of 225 in favor and 61 against the closed shop. A standing vote had been taken at first, and showed 284 in favor and only 121 against, the opposition being intimidated by the spectacle of one of their number from the meeting. Then it was discovered by one of the opposition that the constitution demanded a secret vote on the issue, and it was taken, showing a marked increase in the number of those who were opposed to action which may bring on a strike, but by the time this vote was taken many men had left the room in disgust.

WALKING DELEGATES WIN.

A wrangle lasting one hour and a half came with the discussion of the Saturday half-holiday and the demand of a raise in wages from $2.50 to $4 a day, but as before, although there was a strong opposition to the $4 clause in the resolution, the loud walking delegates worked the crowd up to a high pitch of excitement by hurling abuse at capital and free labor and then yelled for the previous question. The question was divided and separate votes taken on the half-holiday clause and on the demand for 50 cents an hour. Both were carried by large majorities, two-thirds being necessary to carry it. When the last ballot was taken but 124 members voted and there were twelve blanks cast out of this number. Men fought their way to the door rather than be parties to the action.

ACTION BY OTHER UNIONS.

During the meeting it was officially stated by Chairman Connors that the bricklayers, hod carriers, floor tiers and plumbers had all acted favorably upon the closed-shop resolution and that a concerted union stand was to be taken against the building contractors.

"Right there, I want to say," interrupted a member, "that there must not be any discrimination between the big and the little contractors. When it comes to walking out, everybody's got to go and fight to the finish."

After the various meetings had adjourned little groups of union men stood about the building and on the streets and discussed what they had done. The walking delegates were not there to bolster up their courage, and scores of them expressed doubts as to the wisdom of the action taken. Overwhelming as was the vote in favor of the resolutions, the men were obviously ashamed of their own action, and many of them are at heart not in favor of the threatened strike.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Hot times prevailed at the meeting of the Police Commission last evening when prominent citizens crowded the room to protest against a wholesale liquor license in their district. Mayor McAllister acknowledged that he broke his promise to hold the license because of the mass meeting of protesters last Sunday.

Mrs. Schack was reticent upon the witness stand yesterday, during the trial of Ernest Stackpole for the murder of her husband, Joel Schack. All day long she was harassed with questions, but whenever confronted by a difficult one she didn't remember.

Mrs. Feldman of San Pedro was in court yesterday asking Judge Wilbur to diagnose a noise and a smell and assess damages accordingly. Her claim was that her rooming-house had been ruined by the presence underneath of a delicatessen store.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MAYOR TANGLED IN BOOZE CASE.

CHARGED WITH VIOLATING HIS PROMISE.

City "Boss" and Teller of the Police Commission last night, Mayor McAllister, was charged with violating his promise to hold a liquor license in the district of George Alexander, Rev. B. C. Cory, Chaplain Nave, George L. Sanders and others, and they made his honor acquit.

It was a hot time on a hot night for Mayor McAllister, last night at the meeting of the Police Commission, when he was charged with violating his promise to hold a liquor license in the district of George Alexander, Rev. B. C. Cory, Chaplain Nave, George L. Sanders and others, and they made his honor acquit.

A couple of hundred residents of the neighborhood of Twenty-eighth and Main street packed the room to suffocation to protest against the delivery of the wholesale liquor license issued at the last meeting of the commission to W. C. Hoback, at that corner. The delegation represented a petition signed by 400 persons, under the leadership of George Alexander, Rev. B. C. Cory, Chaplain Nave, George L. Sanders and others, and they made his honor acquit.

It was stated by every speaker that the license was applied for and granted without anybody in that section of the city knowing that it had ever been applied for, and the statements were not denied. It must be said that the speakers were more urgent than polite, and took occasion to fire some hot shots at the Mayor's office. The commission, not calculated to win their respect, recalled the license, but possibly not half so hot as they would have been had they known what the license was for. The license had been delivered to Hoback on Monday, by the Mayor's order, to get the license back at Sunday night's discussion meeting in Vincent Church.

Members Alexander, Nave, Cory and Sanders had called at the Mayor's office on Thursday and got his promise to hold the license until the meeting of the commission last night, when the protesters could be heard, and that he had violated his promise came out from Chaplain O. J. Nave, the fourth speaker, asked the Mayor a question.

"I am right in saying that the license has not been delivered," queried Chaplain Nave confidently.

"No, sir; you're not," responded the Mayor.

"What?" began the speaker, "against you?"

"No, sir; I ordered them to deliver the license on Monday."

Every face was filled with consternation and a murmur of indignation ran through the crowd.

"It seems to me," continued Chaplain Nave, "that the Mayor's office has been very dishonest, before we had time to protest against it as American citizens."

George L. Sanders rose up the argument and catched with the Mayor until he was "sore" all the way through, and came near showing anger before he and the young lawyer got apart.

"We told you we desired to protest at this meeting," said Sanders, and you told us you would hold the license until we had the opportunity."

He appealed in person to each of the three gentlemen who had accompanied him on the visit to the Mayor on Thursday and each of them said "yes."

"It seems to me a most remarkable thing," said Sanders, "that the Mayor of a city should take such action in the face of such a promise."

"As a young man, I worked and voted for 'Honest Old Mac' because when the people and the newspapers were talking of 'Honest Mac' for the Governor's chair, and I can understand how you as Mayor could violate such a promise."

"You said you would protest, but no protest came," ventured the Mayor.

"Did you not expect that the protest would come at this meeting?" he was asked.

"No, sir; I expected it sooner."

"Is not this the only place we could present it?"

"No, sir; you could have presented it to me."

"Why did you not hold the license as you promised?"

"Because I didn't hear from you."

A laugh of derision went round the room at this reply from the Mayor.

"Has not your action made our protest unsatisfactory?" asked Mr. Sanders.

pers, and my little wife cried because her husband was such a bad man, I just came right down to the office and ordered that license delivered."

"Commissioner Mason then took a hand in the discussion for the first time and wanted to know how it happened that they granted this license outside the license zone when they have been so strict all along. 'We've two wine and a-half of solid saloons,' he declared, 'and there's no use talking about this being a dry town.'"

He moved that the license be granted to Hoback, but got no second to the motion, and at the suggestion of the Mayor the matter was taken up, but when the protesters came down easier, and the latter left the room in high dudgeon.

Just to show how really virtuous the commission could be when a protest was presented, the next one was knocked out with unanimous vote. W. C. Johnson asked for a license at No. 3129 South Park avenue, and a spokesman who said he represented a delegation of twenty-eight people who were present, protested against it. Without another word, the motion to grant the license was unanimously adopted.

The wholesale license applied for at No. 2129 South Park street was held over for one week to give protesters a chance to appear.

BLUNDERING CONTRACTOR.

OUTGOT TO PAY THE BILLS.

The Board of Public Works took up the matter of the M. L. Hostetter bid for the construction of a sewer on Avenue 51 yesterday, but deferred action until today, when Hostetter will be summoned to appear. His request for withdrawal of the bid because he had made a mistake was accompanied by an affidavit as to the truth of his claim, but, nevertheless, the board prefers to have him appear in person.

What Hostetter was doing was of the kind in this city, it is no new thing for a contractor to put in a bid lower than he can do the work for, and then, after having heard the figures of his competitors, ask to be released and have all his bids rejected, because he made a blunder in his estimates. Under these circumstances, the board is justified in requiring the bidder who thus upsets the plans of the board to make good the amount for readjusting. In the case of this sewer it will cost the city about $50, and no one of labor and trouble in the office.

THE STORM DRAIN.

COMPLETE NEXT MONTH.

The Board of Public Works inspected the section of the storm drain on Sixth street yesterday, between Main and Alameda streets, between Edwards and Hubbard, walking through the drain in company with the contractors. The inspection is preliminary to acceptance of the work, and it is pronounced in a very satisfactory condition. It is seven feet high and five feet wide, in the form of an ellipse.

Connection is about to be made with the next section of the drain east of Alameda street, between Edwards and Hubbard, walking through the drain in company with the contractors. The inspection is preliminary to acceptance of the work, and it is pronounced in a very satisfactory condition. It is seven feet high and five feet wide, in the form of an ellipse.

CITY HALL BRIEFS.

MEASUREMENTS COMPLETED.

The surveyors completed their measurements of the storm drain yesterday, but were unable to give accurate figures last night. They will probably be presented to the Board of Public Works this morning, and their way to the City Attorney promptly, and figures in that official's report to the City Engineer this afternoon.

Somebody complained to the Civil Service Commission that inspectors Sanborn, Hock, and Lombard, all connected with the water works, had been doing politics, contrary to the civil-service rules. They will be summoned to explain their conduct at its next meet. The secretary refused to divulge the name of the informant.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SHE LEARNED HER LESSON.

MRS. SCHECK UNDER FIRE OF CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Conceded That She Had Been Questioned Over and Over on the Same Line as the Questioning Followed in Court, but Says That She Merely Asks for Justice.

The public, as represented by the crowd that thronged the courtroom to witness the trial of Ernest Stackpole for the murder of her husband, Joel Schack, yesterday, determined that they shall see all that there is to see. Yesterday there was such a wild rush when the doors were opened that a panel of plate glass in the courtroom door was smashed. The rush was made only when the deputy sheriffs threatened to make wholesale arrests.

It was "ladies' day" yesterday, fully one-half of those present in court being women. During the afternoon, when the details of the murder of the wife of Mrs. Aurelia Schack were being told, a most hilarious character, and bore upon his face the defendant, and the women in court used their fans a little more vigorously than they had before, and that was all. Not one left her seat. At the noon recess the morning spectators went out to luncheon, when they returned the room was empty.

A few wise ones ate their lunch in the courtroom.

And in this atmosphere of prurient curiosity Mrs. Schack was made to tell in greater detail than on the day previous all the particulars of the murder of her husband. Attorney Nolman, who represented the defense, took a great deal of questioning to elicit this much for Mrs. Schack said that she had not been promised any hope of reward for telling her story in court.

"I told you that I told the truth, and it would be easier for me," she reiterated again and again. Every time she interviewed her she told her this, and when she lapsed into fabrications to explain the gruesome details of the murder, the assurance would again be given her that it would be easier for her if she told the truth.

"At the police station," said the witness, "I told some things that were true and some that were false, and got all tangled up. And then I determined to just tell the truth, and they said then that it would go easier with me if I told the truth."

"And you expect to go free?" inquired Attorney Nolman.

"I expect justice," was the strange reply.

"You expect to get out of it if Ernest Stackpole is convicted don't you, and that you will not be tried?"

"I don't know," but the prosecution came to the assistance of their star witness by making objection. The defense claimed the right to find out just what the price was that you to give for Mrs. Schack's testimony, and the examination was resumed.

"I don't expect anything," she said, "I don't believe anything. I only expect justice."

Judge James instructed Mrs. Schack to answer the question and not evade, and she said that she didn't know whether she would be tried or not. She stated, however, that her attorneys (Howard H. Appel and Paul Fleming) had told her that if she told the truth that she probably would never be brought to trial.

"And you believed them?" she was asked.

"I didn't believe, and I didn't disbelieve."

It was then sought to be discovered whether Mrs. Schack had been coached or not for the trial, and after a long and wearisome examination she was in isolated sentences that Mr. Fleming would question her and over again repeating what she would say until, said Mrs. Schack, "she knew the words by heart."

"Had not the questions asked you yesterday been asked you by Mr. Fleming before?"

The witness conceded that most of them had been gone over three or four times.

Mrs. Schack stated that she became acquainted with Stackpole at her mother's rooming-house on Los Angeles street, in last Christmas week. A week or two after she made his acquaintance, she learned that Stackpole was a servant to him. Rather curiously she confessed this fact to her friend, Mrs. Schack, and also told the same story to her mother. Stackpole sent her money from Arizona.

She said that she received many letters from the grocery store of Myers and Zimmerman, in the name of Miss McCullough, but wrote to Stackpole to cease sending them, when the grocery store spoke of sending the letters to her mother's house.

About two hours was spent in an effort on the part of the counsel to get the witness to answer the question. But here Mrs. Schack's "forgetful" proved to be in good working order. Having received, as she said, an average of almost a letter a day, she could not fix certain statements made by Stackpole in these epistles by date, nor could she approximate these statements by memory, and she consequently there was no way by which comparison could be made with other facts and details in this family tragedy.

"I can't remember," became a stock phrase, and with parrot-like pertinacity she kept repeating it when she was asked high and low questions which she thought a possible pitfall.

When made to rehearse again yesterday the scene of the murder, Mrs. Schack said a few tears, and told the jury that she was going to bed with her husband, kissing him good-night, and then raising up several times to look at him as he fell asleep.

"Do you want this jury to believe that you loved your husband that night?" she was asked, and she mopped the tears away from her eyes with her handkerchief.

"Yes, sir," was the astounding answer.

As an explanation of her peculiar mental attitude Mrs. Schack stated that while she had loved Stackpole, she repeatedly called him "a fool" yesterday—a change took place and she feared him. The defense sought to show that she had extended her favors to him, and that she was not a fool.

Question was put Mr. Fleming was upon his feet objecting, and the objection every time was sustained.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Rose said: "It is unfortunate, Judge, that you, who profess to have played only the part of a peace adjuster, should be left behind the sack by the other men. But the evidence in this case shows conclusively that three men entered the place where they had no business and attacked two men who clearly were their inferiors in physical strength, interfering with their pursuit of their lawful occupation. If you were answering to a battery charge instead of a charge of disturbing the peace, I would be strongly inclined to give you a jail sentence and let you look between the bars for some time and think this affair over, but as it is simply disturbing the peace that you are charged with, the court finds you guilty and imposes a fine of $50."

The story of the attack as told by Brown and his son was only disputed by Tipton on the point as to who struck Brown, the elder with a club, Tipton claiming that either Wilson or Smalley was the guilty man and that the only thing he did was to pull Brown out of the way.

SOME COMPARISONS.

VARIED ODORS AT SAN PEDRO.

Bertha Feldman carries on business in rooming-house at San Pedro, and claims to have been aggrieved by a roomer being chased away by a smell. She began suit against Morris J. Rosenfeld and Mrs. J. B. Yates, and the case went to trial before Judge Wilbur yesterday.

It appeared that Rosenfeld leased the upper portion of a building to Mrs. Feldman for a rooming-house, and shortly afterwards gave a lease of the ground floor and basement to Mrs. Yates to be used as a bakery and delicatessen store. Then the trouble began. Mrs. Feldman complained that the roomers were awakened in the middle of the night by the throbbing machinery and half asphyxiated. The air was poisonous, and the tank at the bottom of the building was perfectly unbearable.

Next day the exodus began, and it was up to Mrs. Feldman to assert herself.

Witnesses yesterday told the court that the sound of the throbbing machinery, the noise of the tank, was like a coffee mill, a steam engine, and a steam locomotive, and gave a ventriloquist exhibition of the sound that the court might actually judge what the sound resembled.

"You go on, go on," in rising and falling inflections, the sound was wafted through the courtroom. Taking a fresh hold and puffing her cheeks, Mrs. Feldman went on to tell the court more and more of the sound of the machinery, and the sound of the machinery.

Then several experts in smells were summoned to the witness stand. David Goodman said that he really could not say how the smell of the machinery was, but the look of horror upon his face indicated his opinion of it.

The witness said that he didn't know how garlic and onions smelled. Judge Goodman said that he was the owner of one of these new and wonderful smelling machines, and the witness must know how garlic and onions smelled.

Goodman conceded that he knew how garlic smelled and he also had a fair working acquaintance with onions when in season; but didn't know how the smell of the machinery was, but the look of horror upon his face indicated his opinion of it.

Several other witnesses stated that the smell that arose from the bakery and the delicatessen store was a combination odor that could not be compared to any solitary odor. It was compounded in character and strong enough to make a man sick.

The case is under consideration.

ONE OF COWARDLY TRIO FINED BY JUDGE ROSE.

Tipton Was Too Drunk to Get Away but the Other Two Assaults of Employees of "The Times" Escaped—Prisoner Narrowly Missed a Jail Sentence.

R. L. Tipton, one of the trio of drunkard union laborers who attacked W. H. Brown and his son, Robert, in the Times warehouse August 4, was fined $50 yesterday afternoon by Judge Rose on a charge of disturbing the peace.

J. Smalley, another of the union toughs, has been located at Burbank, where he is in hiding, and the police expect to effect his arrest within a few hours. J. C. Wilson, the ringleader in the affair, fled to Arizona, leaving the city on the night of August 5, according to a statement made by Tipton.

A battery charge has been placed against him and an effort will be made to return him to Los Angeles.

INDIANS AND SPOOKS.

This Man Says He Never Knew an Indian Guide Who Did Not Believe in Ghosts.

Charles A. Bramble, writing in the Recreation Magazine, says: There was never an Indian guide in my service that did not believe in ghosts. They might not own it, but deep down in their natures it was there. As an instance: I recall one dark, sultry night by a certain salmon stream, when my sole companions were two full-blooded Abenaki Indians. Our camp was pitched in a level but uncommonly dark pine grove. The two little tents reflected the bright stars above the light, but outside its small circle of light the shadows were dark as those of Erebus. After supper the talk drifted into a discussion of the supernatural. The Indians told me of a fabulous stream, known to them as Tomonopope, which they said was not a desirable place to find one's self camped alongside, especially if alone. It seems that many Indian hunters have heard strange sounds along this river. Listening in the stillness of a summer's night, after the sun has set and even the night hawks had retired to rest, the solitary camper hears the sound as of men propelling a canoe against the swift current. He can catch the rhythm of the oncoming progress. The spectral canoeists, their poles in the orthodox manner, and with the long, tireless sweep of the hardened voyager. He may even hear the bubble of the current against the bow. Then, the thing draws abreast of the shivering watcher. He seems to hear the grating of the poles upon gravel, two poles are, seemingly, thrown ashore, and then the calm of the wilderness sinks over everything, and the fisherman realizes that it is no canoe poled by human hands that he has heard.

This was the yarn that the Indians told me. In return I laid myself out to give them the most bloodcurdling stories that had been told me in childhood by a misguided and garrulous uncle, who was herself a believer in gnomes, hobgoblins and fairies.

By and by these Indians shook like poplar leaves in a breeze, and became so jumpy that they wouldn't leave the light of the camp fire, even to get a drink of cold water before turning in, and I believe they shivered and shook half through the night, for fear of a ghost or some other malignant windigo should carry them off before the breaking of the dawn.

Are They Out of Your Reach?

No, They Are Not--They Will Be Found Hanging Right Down Within Easy Reach of Any Man Not Too Stingy to Live

I have three extremely fine Wianner pianos for sale today (brand new) at the greatest sacrifice such pianos were ever offered east or west, and will make the terms $50 cash and $50 per month. Remember, the Wianner stands at the head of its class with people who know, recognizing no superior in the piano world today, and there are not more than three makes even considered in its class in the retail trade of New York City and Brooklyn.

That we are forced to sell these beautiful pianos $500 below their established price is a pity, but nevertheless true. They must be sold, and when such famous pianos as the Wianner, the favorite of Khablik and of Paur, known and endorsed by artists and musicians throughout the civilized world as the acme of perfect piano construction, when such pianos are to be sold at $500 below their established price, it is about time that high class customers sit up and take notice.

It is time for first class buyers to seriously consider what that means to them. It can mean but one thing—that every man has his opportunity just once and that if his foresight was as good as his hindsight he would have grasped it. This is the time to grasp the Wianner and those even contemplating owning such a piano who do not investigate immediately and act have lost something. They have let something slip through their fingers.

I cannot go out, grab you by the hair of your head and drag you in here. I can only invite you. But the bargains are here exactly as stated and those who fail to take advantage of them and have to pay two prices hereafter will have no excuse to offer. Many other fine pianos, including the Baumeister, Stock, Klammer and others are now offered at ridiculous prices in this sale to close out quickly. There are twenty-five bargains in this sale that cannot possibly be duplicated hereafter, nearly all of them at $15 down and $5 per month. I can say no more than has been said. The above facts shall be verified by all who enter the Pacific Music Co.'s store, where I still hold forth, the organizer of this company, and stand in my place the oldest dealer in this city.

This sale will continue only this week. Four more days yet, brimming over with piano bargains—bargains which mean a first-class piano as low for you as any ordinary dealer ever bought it, saving every dollar from the factory that built it down to your own home.

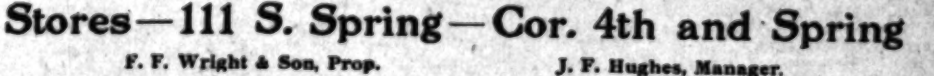

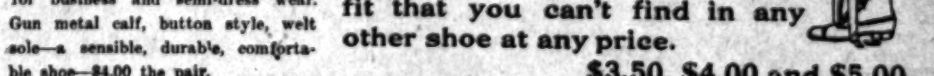

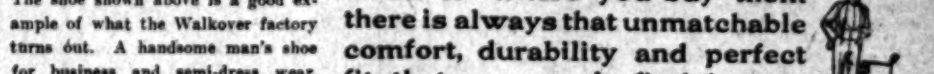

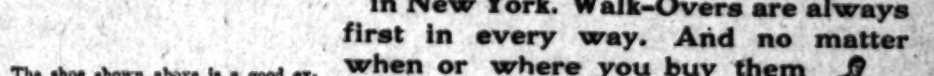

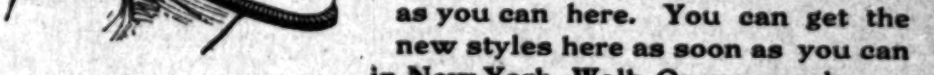

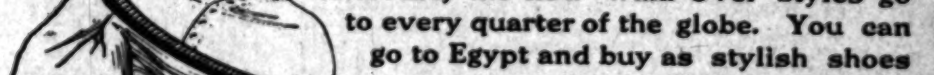

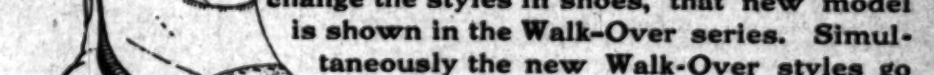

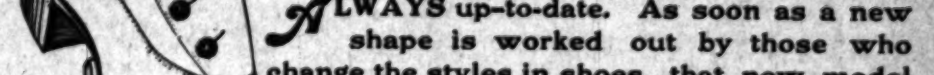

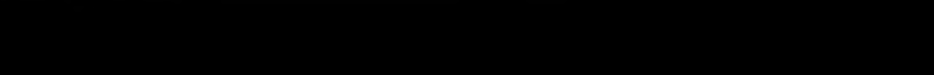

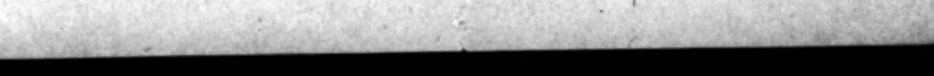

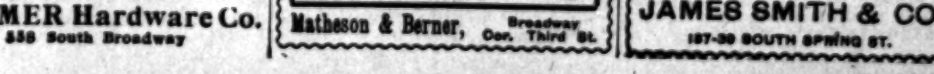

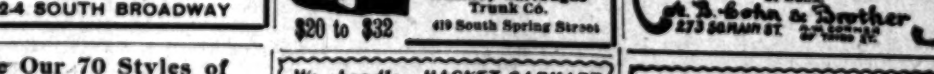

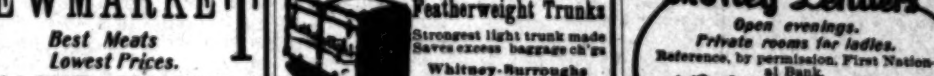

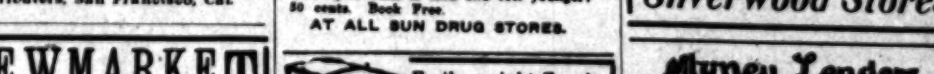

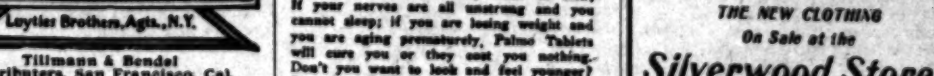

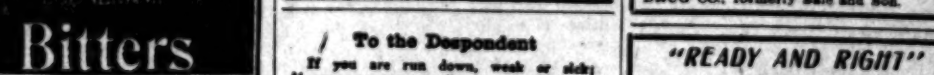

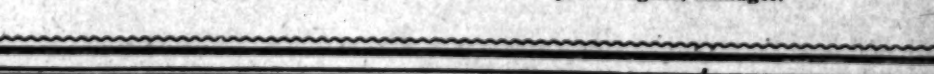

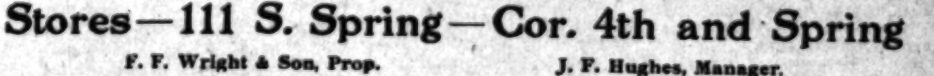

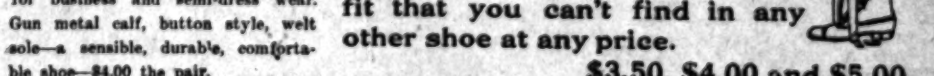

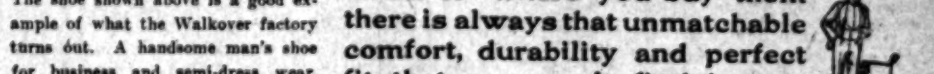

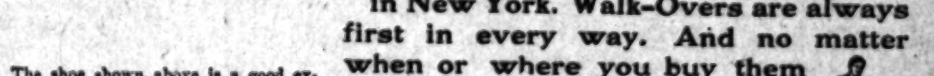

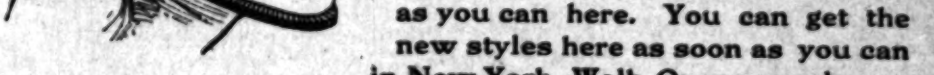

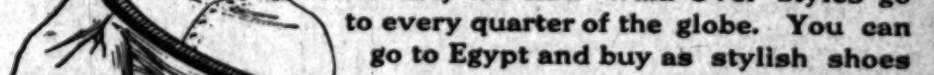

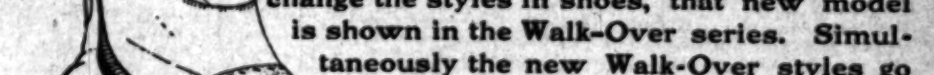

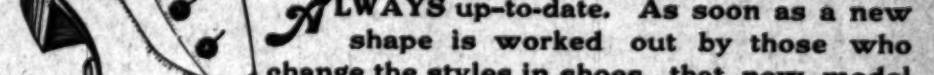

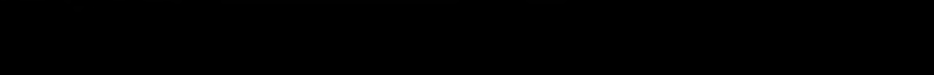

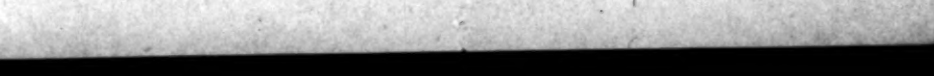

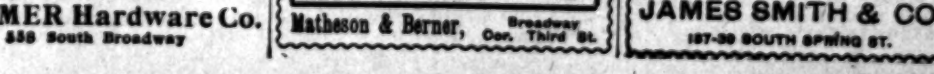

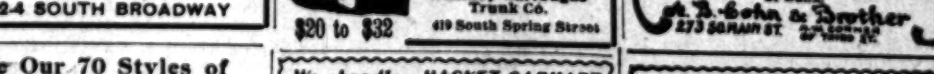

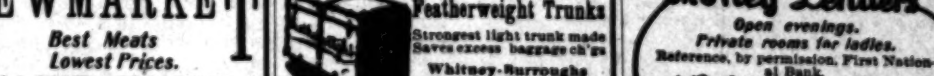

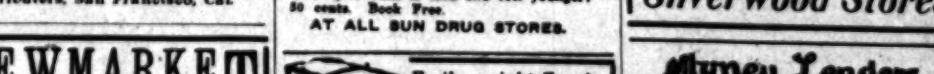

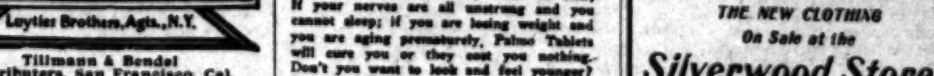

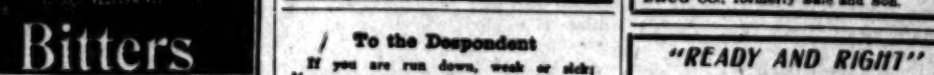

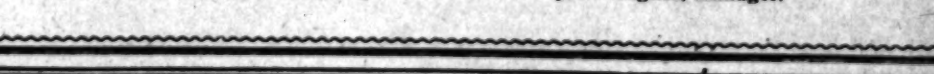

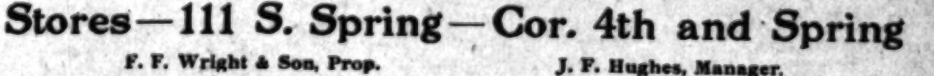

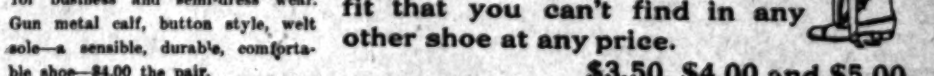

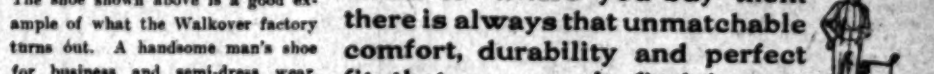

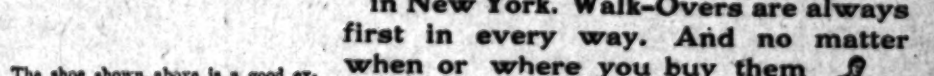

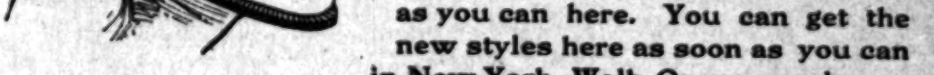

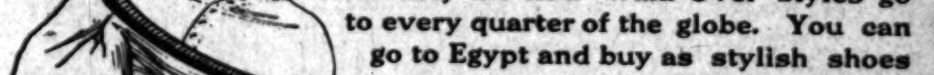

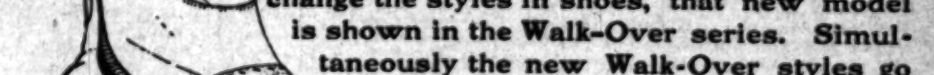

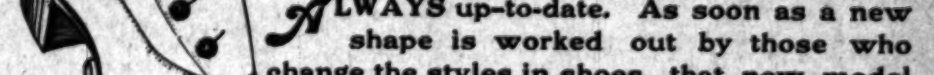

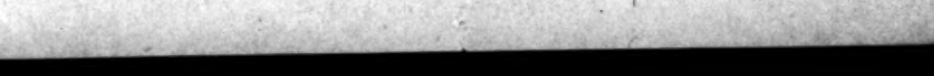

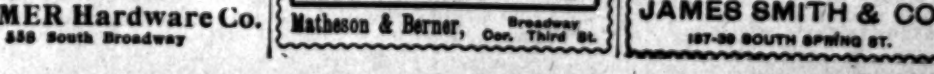

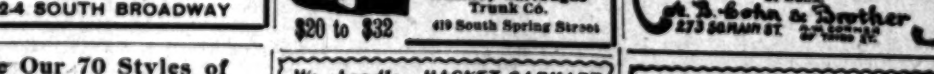

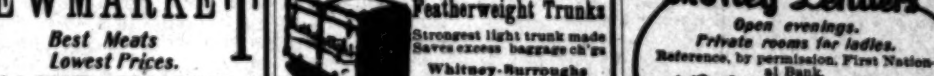

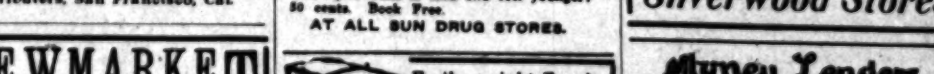

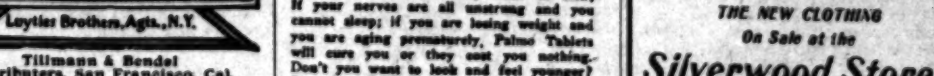

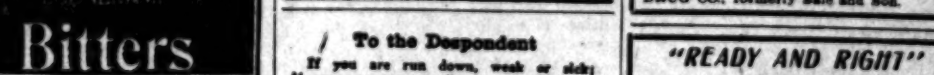

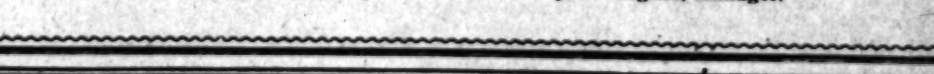

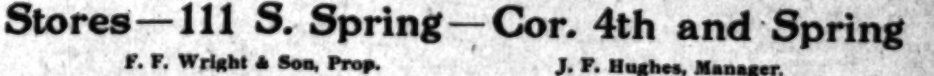

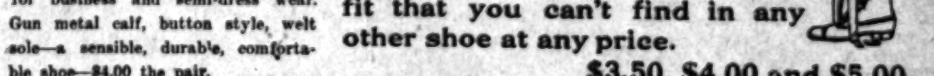

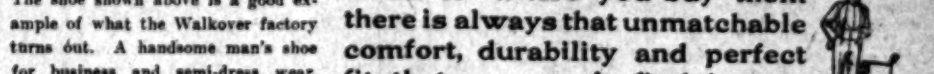

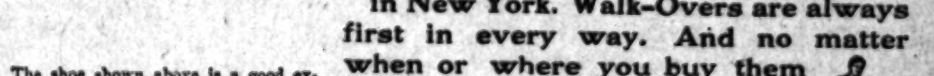

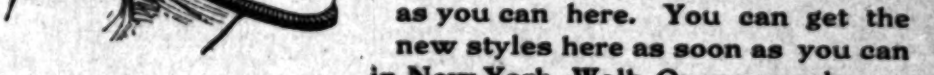

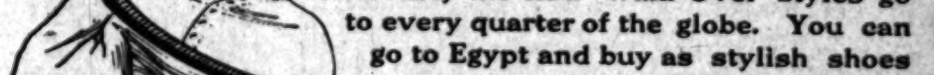

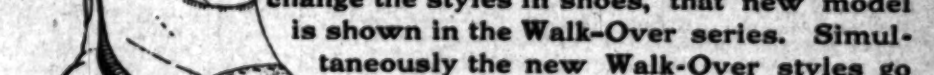

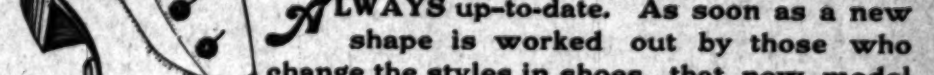

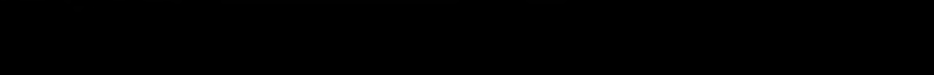

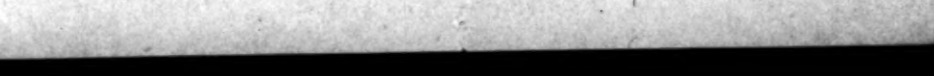

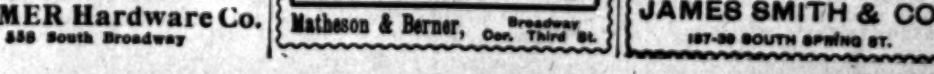

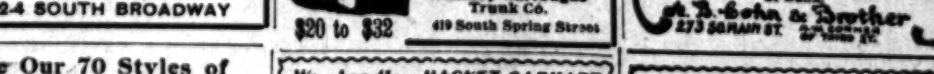

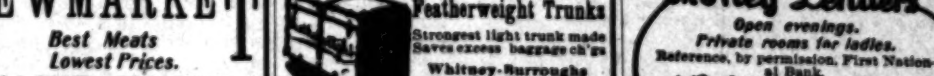

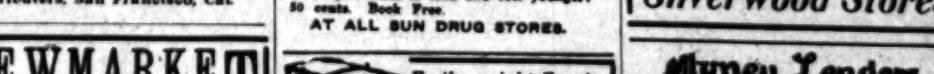

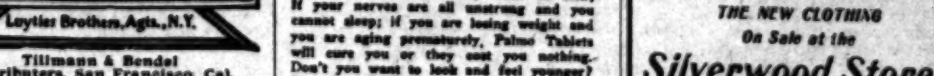

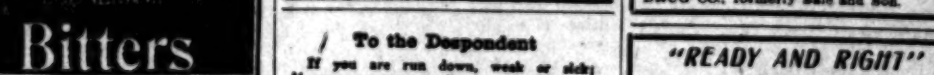

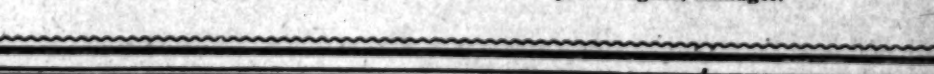

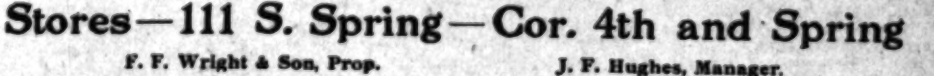

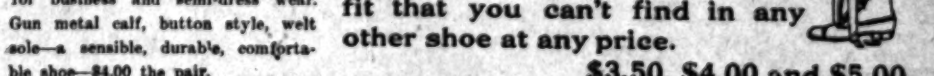

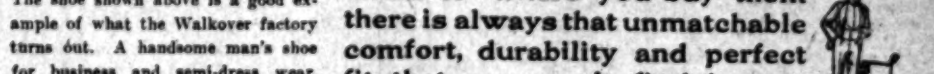

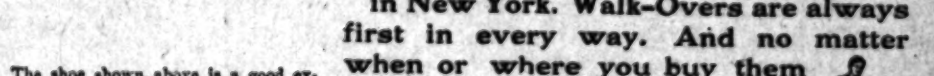

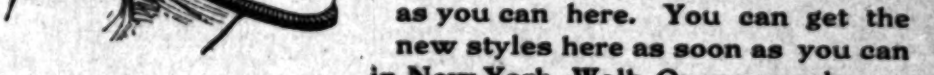

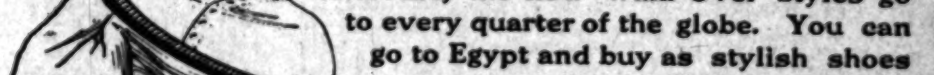

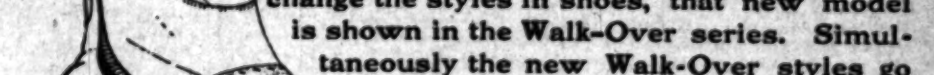

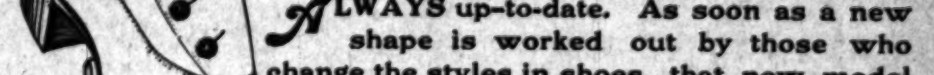

Don't forget about the Wianner, for it is a very fine and costly piano, but when I knock off every dollar between you and the factory that built it you can reach it easy. It will be in reach of any one who would be willing to pay as much as is ordinarily asked at retail for an ordinary medium piano. Don't fail to see these Wianners—they are great. Don't fail to get my prices at once for I rather expect the three will sell right out today. We sold three Monday and some days right on this floor have sold as many as nine pianos in a single day.

Do you think in a midsummer sale in the very driest season folks would elbow aside for the bargains I offer if they were not genuine?

Remember we are open all week from 8 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night.

BURGLAR FINDS TOWN EASY.

JEWELRY AND THINGS PLUCKED IN VENTURA.

Ventura, Aug. 14.—It has been such a long time since a real burglar operated in this town, that when he came a few nights ago, he found things just as easy for him as it was possible to make them. The town has been so long immune that people had ceased to think there were such things as burglars and left their windows open and their doors unlocked and never a thought of a dishonest person in the land.

The burglar arrived in town Monday night and he is richer by two diamond rings and a good deal of money which he secured at the residence of C. W. Lewis, on Oak street, below Main. Last night when the burglar returned, he found the front door ajar. He entered the house and without making a sound, he secured two jewel boxes worth $225 and the other of the value of $45. He also picked up $10 in cash and a gold watch.

The family discovered its loss this morning and reported to the officers, but there is no clue by which the thief can be apprehended. Today the people are busy laying a supply of door keys, new locks and window fastenings.

SHE PRODUCES QUEENS. Miss Flora McIntyre may rightly be termed the bee queen of Ventura county. She has been as busy as a bee all summer in the making of queens of the bee variety with which to supply the world of bees with the proper rulers. Miss McIntyre is the daughter of J. F. McIntyre, long known as the bee king of the county. She is a student at the State University at Berkeley, a beautiful and talented girl and as graceful as she is beautiful. She has worked all her life with bees and few know the proper kind of queen to produce.

In order that she might pay her way through college she conceived the idea of going into the making of queens for the bee people of the world. She has devoted her whole vacation to the work, with the result that she has turned out several hundred queens. She has conducted her operations at the Saepe bee ranch of her father and, while other students have enjoyed the vacation in play, Miss McIntyre has devoted all her time to the work at which she is so adept and which she has learned to love.

Her queens are so superior and so much sought after that she finds it the trouble in disposing of them all right in the State at from 75 cents to $1 each. She says that she will go into the queen-making business even on a greater scale next season and will do business with the bee people throughout the world at large, as there is always a market for California queens, best as well as the other kind all over the world. She leaves for Berkeley on the 19th inst. to renew her studies.

A sewer service with a septic tank is favored. Committees were appointed to work for the improvements. If the sewer is not forthcoming, the Biological Station will be moved to some other location.

QUESTION MISS EAC'S SANITY. OSTFERT BAY (L. J.) Aug. 14.—Lunacy proceedings were instituted yesterday against Miss Eac, or Elsie, which case was created by a disturbance during the church service attended by President Roosevelt Sunday. Should Miss Eac remain within the jurisdiction of Nevada county until Wednesday, she will be taken before Judge Jackson of Minocla for commitment as an insane person.

Rugs. The seventeen-year-old son of Prof. George L. Colby, of the agricultural department of the State University, who was on a fishing trip in the Sierras, is missing, and it is feared he has been drowned in Truckee River. A price is now searching for the body.

HALO BEACH. Aug. 14.—Pine catches of halibut, yellowtail and sea bass were made at this place today. Also a shovelnose shark, the latter weighing about sixty pounds. The price of yellowtail was seven cents, and sea bass was eight cents. The shovelnose was sold for $1.00. The biggest halibut weighed the scales at twelve pounds, while a number of bass were caught over fifteen pounds in weight. Every cottage on the beach is taken and there are few rooms vacant.

She has worked all her life with bees and few know the proper kind of queen to produce.

In order that she might pay her way through college she conceived the idea of going into the making of queens for the bee people of the world. She has devoted her whole vacation to the work, with the result that she has turned out several hundred queens. She has conducted her operations at the Saepe bee ranch of her father and, while other students have enjoyed the vacation in play, Miss McIntyre has devoted all her time to the work at which she is so adept and which she has learned to love.

Her queens are so superior and so much sought after that she finds it the trouble in disposing of them all right in the State at from 75 cents to $1 each. She says that she will go into the queen-making business even on a greater scale next season and will do business with the bee people throughout the world at large, as there is always a market for California queens, best as well as the other kind all over the world. She leaves for Berkeley on the 19th inst. to renew her studies.

LOST RIVERS OF CALIFORNIA.
MYSTERIOUS STREAMS DISAPPEAR AND LEAVE NO TRACE.

Interesting Natural Phenomena of the "Vanishing Waters"—Strange Course of the Santa Ana River of Southern California, the San Gabriel and Los Angeles Rivers.

Frederick Ordway, writing in the Washington Sunday Post, says: On the American continent there are no natural phenomena of more mysterious and fascinating interest than the "lost rivers" of the far West. These hidden-and-seek streams, as a rule, head in mountainous areas and rush downward into bowl-like valleys, where they inconspicuously vanish. Some of these reappear, and finally partly the water and through which it percolates slowly beneath the surface. When the slow-moving underground currents surface, they are found to be in the shape of a natural dike or the rocky rim of the lower edge of the valley, the water is forced to the surface and the stream is born again.

Thus the Santa Ana River, in California, sinks in the wash above Redlands, rises to the surface above Bunker Hill "dike," sinks below it, rises from Riverside to Bedrock Cañon below El Rincon, sinks in the wash above Santa Ana, and finally partly rises again in the large peal-land springs above Talbert. The San Gabriel and Los Angeles rivers exhibit the same characteristics, but disappear and reappear less often in their much shorter courses to the sea. At some points, these sunken rivers flow for long distances under a wide stratum of impervious material, where the water is under considerable pressure. When wells are driven through this stratum an artesian flow results. The discovery of this fact added many thousands of acres to the cultivated area of California, most of which is in oranges, lemons, grapes and other high-priced products.

Another peculiar stream is the Deschutes, which drains a large area in Central Oregon. It is known to hydrographers all over the world for the extraordinary regularity of its flow throughout the year. This is accounted for by the porous lava formation, which constitutes a portion of the drainage area, and which is especially true of a part of the waters of the Deschutes. Successive flows of lava, ruptured, fractured and fissured by convulsions of nature, extend for many miles of this region. When the streams encounter this sheet of lava they are taken up by the sponge-like material, and disappear from sight, passing beneath and through the lava, and finally emerging through dark caverns and deep cañons into the main stream.

This wonderful lava bed is nature's regulator. It swallows up the floods that come when the steep slopes absorb the rains and snows, and then releases them slowly through a filter miles and miles in length, into the river channel. There are no turbid floods in the Deschutes. In fact, there are no floods at all. Day after day and year after year its flow is uniform and its waters sparkling and clear. For this reason, probably, it is the finest trout stream in America.

New Mexico also has a trout stream, the Rio Mimbres. It drains many miles of mountain country in the southern part of the Territory, and for a time is a stream of importance. Then, as if tired of existence, it flows out upon the plains near Deming and is lost forever, swallowed up in the loose sand and gravel. The Pecos, too, is a trout at times, and weeks section beneath the surface, coming up miles below in artesian springs of great volume and flow.

Agnes Agn, when the earth was young, the great Snake River plain, in Idaho, now a scene of utter desolation, was a semi-primitive garden. Countless streams crossed it, and lengthwise through it flowed the mighty Snake. In the forest primeval and over the verdure-clad plains roamed the mammoth, the mammoth, the camel, a queer kind of horse, and many other species of prehistoric animals. We know all this to be true by reason of the discovery of the remains of these extinct animals in the recent excavations made at Mendocino Rapids.

A great catastrophe overwhelmed this valley. On seven different occasions the lofty Tetons, which frame the Snake River, crossed it, and the active volcanoes, erupted and poured forth a sea of lava, which swept downward and westward, covering the valley floor with a thick layer of fiery liquid more than 800 feet thick. In the cataclysm all the teeming life was annihilated. The rivers were buried up and their channels obliterated.

The Snake River cut its way through the lava sheet, carving for itself one of the most wonderful cañons in the West; other streams from the south persisted and finally found the parent cañon. On the north the river countered the wall of lava, but did not cut through it. It is a striking hydrographic feature of the valley that for hundreds of miles not a river crosses it from the north.

Among the streams which flow southward from the range of snow-capped mountains on the northern edge of the valley, two are especially interesting, the Big and Little Lost Rivers. In that long ago before the mountains belched forth fire these rivers formed an important tributary of the Snake, but the channel was obliterated by successive layers of lava which flowed over it. Today the floods of these rivers flow for a short distance on the surface of the plain and then disappear in fissures, crevices or in the softer and looser formation. Both are truly lost rivers for they never appear again as streams for itself one of the most wonderful cañons in the West; other streams from the south persisted and finally found the parent cañon. On the north the river countered the wall of lava, but did not cut through it. It is a striking hydrographic feature of the valley that for hundreds of miles not a river crosses it from the north.

It is more than a hundred miles from where they lose themselves in the lava to the cañon of Snake River. Yet it is believed that a part of the waters of these rivers, passing through subterranean channels hundreds of feet below the surface, finally reach their former confluence. Shepherds and herdsmen who graze their flocks and herds in winter on this broad plain have bright sun paints innumerable rain-drops of indescribable coloring and beauty.

More than 900,000 gallons of water pour out of fountains every minute in the year. You can travel for ten miles down the cañon and never be out of sight of a dozen waterfalls. More than half the normal flow of the river at this point is supplied by these springs, which have their source probably hundreds of miles to the north, and which are drawn from underground reservoir beneath the treeless plain.
